Mr. John S. Blanchard,
Dear Sir,

Yours is received.
I have sent such records, as I have to Miss Mary Clough. I think words may be found in the Family Bible of the late Stephen Kerrick, at the residence of Mrs. Charles Herrick.
Mr. Charles Herrick was an own cousin of my Mother. I cannot look up the record at my Aunt's house - instead for you. as I would like to do, but presume you could.

if you call there.
Her great grand father, Benjamin Blanchard, and her grand father, Edward Blanchard would be likely to be found in the Herricks Bible.
as I know they had
one. My father had looked up the descent from Col. Joseph Blanchard and I have a copy of the Trinity

Henrich Memorial in which it is printed,
I can show you,
if you call at my house. Our records go no farther back than Capt. Ebenezer Blanchard, the great grand father of the Goodwin sister. But Aunt Henrich used to talk with me about her sister of four sisters, and she must ^{have} had her great grand father's record. Mr. Joseph died in Boston in 1837 was at Salisbury Fort in 1758. ^{and Concord} I know no more.

about Benjamin and Edward. If sister Anna was here from Florida she could be of much valuable aid to you.

I have a lame wrist and am prevented from using my pen.

Yours truly,
Alice F. Goodwin.

Camdenbury, -

Your postal card was received.

Yes, my Father was Moses B. Goodwin who was on the Editorial Staff of the Washington, (D. C.), "Intelligencer" in 1861 and in 1872 founded the "Merrimack Journal" at Franklin

My uncle was Capt. William F. Goodwin. A biographical sketch of him may be found in Appleton's Cyclopaedia of Biography. He was an Officer in the Civil War and wounded at the Battle of Chickamauga.

He received titles of A. B. A. M.
B. S. L. in Literature and Lieutenant, Captain by brevet and Captain (full) in military record.

I have been looking at a Note Book of my Father's this week and I find several pages about the family of Cetron and a newspaper clipping containing notes written by Levi Bartlett Warner N.H. after an excursion (Nov. 1870) to Cantonbury where he called on Col. Cetron, Edward Osgood, John Chandler &

The Shakers -

Some day I should like to make a trip to your town so as to see where some of my "Blanchard" progenitors kept the Indians at bay - in vicinity of the "Old Fort" and when I do come, if possible, it will give me pleasure to see you.

I am hunting for record of the parentage of Edward B. who was killed by the Indians whose wife was Bridget - but it is only by pure conjecture that I make him a cousin of Col. Joseph Blanchard of Dunstable (Mass.) If this is so then I have found the link needed in tracing our ancestry - on my mother's side. I suppose it will be explained in the "History of Canterbury" now being compiled but two years it is a long time to wait.

I thank you much for your favor

Yours Truly,
(Miss) Elara K. Goodwin.

 Capt. Ebenezer Hancock, was a successful merchant and a leading citizen of Salisbury, Mass. He owned a part of Frampton, N.H. His father Edward had his grand father Benjamin the first settler in that part of Canterbury, N.H., who included in Northfield, were foremothers of the town. They were of English descent of the same line - age as Col. Joseph Blanchard, who married Governor's daughter the old church and Leonard March and who in 1754 married at the head of his regiment.

4 up the Merrimack River to the Salisbury Fort, which stood on what was afterward the Webster Homestead in Franklin, and thence across the unbroken wilderness to Crown Point, and Canada. The wife of Capt. Egner was a native of Windsorham, N.H., a lady of rare mental endowments, her mother, whose maiden name was Isabella Wagoner, being a native of Scotland, and of Pondumery, N.H., Scotch-Irish colony.

Dear Mr. Blanchard,

I receive yours of May 17 and June 4th with that of April 26th enclosed. My sister writes from South Jacksonville, Florida that she has no idea of a visit North just now. I will assure you that what my Father had left was looked up with care. Mr.
Herrick paid him $125. for writing the Memorial of his son. I am in which in-gave the Crematory of his Father and Mother.

He traces from Joseph B. who died in Boston in 1637.
The same lineage as Col. Joseph B. who in 1754 marched to Salisbury from there to Crown Point and Canada.

You, doubtless, have seen the History of Northfield by Lucy
R. H. Cross. I think my sister detected some errors in her work, but I can not tell what they were. She is very good in this Genealogical work.

you can reach her by letter at ^{South} Jacksonville Florida.
I thank you for the clipping from Boston Transcript I have also a copy of May 25th Transcript.

It is pleasant
to know you remember our family forty-

I was then fourteen yrs. of age, and remember now as

York to Naples on her vacation from her Principal of Blair Pub. School in Washington, D. C. where she has been a teacher for twenty-eight years in succession.
She sailed from Philadelphia to Liverpool and returned from Haue last summer.
My sister who is with me, Mr. LeToumeau

Dear Miss Clough,

I wonder if you have heard from your Card & my sister in Florida. She can probably write a much better letter than I.
I had a Card from her at Pablo Beach on an evening of fine days. I am in hopes it will end in Boston Harbor, but she did not say so.
I sent her former address to Mr. John E.
Blanchard, but have not heard from him.

I conclude to send my record for you to select what you wish to

we shall not fail to be ready,
if you wish to represent us.

My dear Mr. Blanchard,
At the Office of Mr.
Leach in this town is a ^{file} of the Merrimack Journal, where my Father was Editor. In the copy of June 21, 1872 I find one of a series of Historical Articles of N. H. Towns under "Parables and Reminiscences." "A Trip to Bay Hill," It says the Blanchard killed at the Fort in Salisbury, in 1753 was an brother of Benjamin who came from the lower part of Canterbury in 1760, and opened his farm on Bay Hill.

This Article is two columns in length. it tells of Capt. Clough's
Grant for the winter of 1746. Benjamin spent his last days with his son Edward, and Capt. Ebenezer, son of Capt. Edward, took the home stead. The house now Smith Madleigh's was built for Ebenezer by his father about 1793. A revised edition of the Peabody Genealogy has just been issued in Boston at Paper Building. Chas. H.

Paper. I have a copy.
It is very beautiful, with a picture of the good merchants and

Bankers, George Peabody and a copy of Queen Vic-torica's letter from Windsor Castle. I took Mrs W's family record from this Genealogy
as given by the compiler,

the late Pres. of University of Ill.

The "Goodwin Genealogy" written by Mel's William of Concord has been finished and published by twenty wealthy Goodwins and John D.
Goodwin, law partner of Gen. John E. Black of Chicago. You have a large family to cheer you up, and age has its blessings as well as youth. I think my Aunt Martha will be proud of you, as young men who read his Bible, with us all could prove as good and brave as he did. Very truly Yours, J. Goodwin.

Sept. 2nd 1918

Dear Miss Clough,

I return the records,
and am pleased with your rearrangement of facts. Mrs. Estlin inserts the dates of her husband's birth and death, and I think it wise to insert the College degree of Clara H. Goodwin. As Hon. J. S.
Goodwin gives it in the Goodwin Genealogy, compiled by him and written by my Uncle Wm. of Concord.

Clara was a very successful teacher

at Nichols Academy
two years after the degree was conferred, and was elected as teacher in the (Washington, D. C.) High School where she served two years resigning on account of ill health. It was told that they never had a better mind in her position. I remember Mr. Jones' error in Mr. Cross' work in the Northfield record of our Blanchards.
It may have been in the Aztec Record I do not know what is right or what authority she had. Her address is now

South Jacksonville,
Florida. I told Mr.
Blanchard of the File of the Merrimack Journal at the office of Mr. Leach in this town. it has a trip to Bay Hill" by my father and given the Blanchard history there.
I am thankful to you both for mentioning my mother it is a good one. Yours truly, Alice D. Goodwin.

My dear Miss Clough.

Your letter of some days ago should have been answered promptly, but several things have kept me from attending to it. We have had friends with ^{us} most of the time, and I was ~~at~~ two or three days, and I began yesterday to catch up with my correspondence which was badly behind. I know the Goodwins must think me very rude, as I still owe Miss Goodwin a letter. I have been very busy and as Mr. Lyford was not hurrying me, have done very little with genealogy this summer. I started to copy the Goodwin Havenard genealogy, and got down as far as Mr. M. B. Goodwin's brother. I suppose it was, and stopped. I have neglected to write what I had done, and perhaps I had better send the matter to you, as I am sure you will do it much better than I can. I have no doubt that both families trace to the same ancestor who came from London 1639. We trace to his son Samuel, and I think they to John or Nathaniel brothers of Samuel. Think I have some matter that will help you to trace some of that branch as I have copied all that I could find about Blanchards in Canterbury from the incorporation of the town of course Northfield was Canterbury till 1780 my branch came later, in 1769 so they were all of Canterbury till 1780 when Northfield was cut off. I have records of birth of all of our branch in the direct line or nearly all back to Thomas 1st of England. When I can get time to look my papers over, will try and find and pick out and send to you what belong to the Northfield branch. I shall be sorry if you find this a burden to you.

Sincerely yours John S. Blanchard

P.S. Neither Mr. Lyford or I can find any positive evidence that the man killed at the Fort was father of the one who went up to Bay Hill. This latter Benjamin it is said came from Hampstead with Col. Joseph ^{Blanchards} ~~Regiment~~ about 1755 and it is said he married at Hampstead Azuba Keazor. Mr. Lyford is satisfied that Richard Blanchard who came before 1730 was the first settler in Canterbury as we have traced him by his number of home lot to where Doctor True lives now, which was not many rods from where Blanchard was killed by Indians, and as he was not living in Canterbury after that occurrence it seems reasonable to believe that he was the man killed. Still he may have been Benjamin's father. This Richard came from Oyster River Parish, now Durham J. S. B.
