Mrs Sargent

I don't know as you can do any thing with this, but I have done the best I could with out any record of any kind if I had only known a little while ago I could have done better. Mother could have told me a good deal, but I mean to look up some things this summer
as this has got me a little anxious to know more about our People hope you

Can use this all right -

Mrs Addie Wiggin

Plymouth, May. 6. 1910.

Dear Miss M. E. Clough:

I was pleased indeed to see your handwriting, but I cannot give you much information.

In the history of Concord, I found something about the Heazletti families. The first ones came to Rowley Mass. and from there to Concord

N.H. I think there is nothing in our town history that can help you.

I am in haste,
as I am going away
on the train this noon to visit a few days: when I return
I will write you again,
and may find some
dates.

Sincerely Yours,
Martha F. Hazen

Perhaps Carrie Baker has the date that I lost.

Plymouth, May, 30, 1910.

Dear Miss Clough:

I wrote in haste
before, just the evening before going to my brother's home near Greenfield, Mass.

I cannot find the paper that I had once,
giving the date of the coming to Rowley of
The Kezeltenis

One of my Cousins told me that they came from Rowley, Eng. to Rowley Plau-

2 Lation; and Brookford, Mass. was once a part of Rowley. Some of the Kezeltnies came to Concord. Before 1740, I think that I found when I had a chance to see a history of Concord.

My Great Grandfather
had a home on South Main St. Concord, and the well still is to be seen in the cellar of a house built on the old lot: so Mrs B.P. Stone told me, and showed me the house.

I cannot tell anything about Abel Kezeltnie.

Carrie Baker ^(in Concord) who is a descendant of the Hazettines once told me of a man in Concord who was writing the history of the Hazettines. I wrote about two weeks ago to Carrie asking if she knew anything more about him or his writings, but she has not answered my question yet. She is Clerk in Kimball's Photo. Rooms

Five years ago, a man stopping at the Hotel here, from Philadelphia was hunting up all the Hazettines in this region, and said that he was to write a history of the Hazettines. He

4 talked with my Bro. Arthur,
I did not see him.
His name was Charles Heasettine; he spelt it-
That-way, Arthur said.
I have never heard
anything more about it.
If I can find the date,
I will send it-to you.

I suppose that you know where "Jeddy"
Clough lives now in Concord. I wish that you would call
to see me some time.
I live in my own little yellow house near the centre of the village, G. Keigh St.
Sincerely yours.
(Miss) Martha Heazettou.
