Miss Mary E Clough,

Contestbury N. H.

My dear Miss Clough,-

I am ashamed to send you so poor a sheet on Genealogy, but the older members of my family have all the records in existence, and I fear many of them have been lost by fire, but if other members of my family do not send you a complete sheet, and you will let me know just what you wish I will do my best to get it.

I have written to a man whom I think has written a history of the Jones' and if this be true I may be able to get something of value, for if it includes the Contestbury lineage I shall obtain a copy if possible.

I know that my great grandfathers

Jones came to Centerville from Lee N.H., and I also know where my Great Grandfather Parkinsons Diploma is,
and can get date of that if necessary and even borrow it if you should desire a copy of it.

I am willing to do anything in my power to help out this work which should have been done long ago

Sincerely
S. W. Jones.

Mary Jane French

(Keep this with Benjamin Jones manuscript for the family)

Think this will prove to you that Benjamin Jones was a man of substance as the saying goes:-

In the record kept by Rev. Jedidiah Tucker of Loudon, N.H. ~~Benjamin~~ Benjamin Jones married 1808. Sophia Gleason. also on the same record is the record of Manly Bachelder, married Nancy Gleason ¹⁸¹⁴. Any record says she married Rev. Henry Wiggins. (but ~~I think~~ she married twice)

(See Mathes gen - Emery Lowe resided in Louisville. Ky. where he was a Carpenter + Contractor being fatally injured by a falling timber.)

Have you the story of ^{Mrs} Lorey Glover who lived to an advanced age. some claimed 103 years while others claimed 108. For more than twenty years she prayed every morning and night "That God would not allow her to become a pauper or be buried as such." The news of her death no sooner got abroad in the town when the good people contributed a large sum which paid her burial some for her son

Mrs. Catie J. Crowell.
Mrs. Catie J. Crowell died at her home in Haverhill, Mass., Monday, March 13, 1911, aged 46 years.
Mrs. Crowell was the daughter of the late Warren A. and Mary J. Stone, formerly of Canterbury, and is survived by one brother, Lee W. Stone, and a sister, Mrs. Jerome J. Lovering of Manchester.
